

A Great Day at Algonquin Park!

Councilwoman Mary C. Woolridge hosted a day of fun and entertainment to highlight the first-ever Algonquin Park Festival. On hand for the fun, Marty Storch of Metro Parks, Mayor Greg Fischer and Dr. LaQuandra Nesbitt, Director of the Metro Public Health and Wellness Department. Also on hand some very hard working Girl Scouts.

Among the activities of the day, Sonny Baker of the YMCA leads line dancing on stage. Councilwoman Woolridge presents an award to Joshua Middleton and Kevone of the group "Broken Messages". They were part of the Youth Talent Performances.

Another highlight of the day, the Gospel Explosion with various singing groups in the area. The Mistress & Master of Ceremonies for the event, Deborah Love Martin and Jamal Love joined Councilwoman Woolridge and Sharron Brown, her Legislative Assistant. Also pictured is Deborah's daughter Tiffany
