INFORMATION ABOUT WESTPOINT AND FT. DUFFIELD

I would like to pass this information to the citizens of our area. The link is very informative and tells some of the history of our Civil War Era. Thanks to Connie Morris for sending the information.

Bob

Hi Everybody:

If you haven't visited the Fort Duffield web site lately, please take this opportunity to check it out. Jimmy Rogers, son of Fort Duffield Heritage Committee Vice Chairman Vestal Rogers, created this web site for us some years ago and did a super job. The tour feature allows people to take a virtual tour of Fort Duffield. By clicking on numbers on a drawing of the fort, they can read about that part of the fort and see a photo of that area.

Friend of Fort Duffield and 9th Michigan Vol Inf member Bruce Loveall of Greensburg, Kentucky has graciously volunteered to help maintain the web site. Bruce has updated contact information and links and added a link to the City of West Point web site and the tourism page which gives more information on Fort Duffield.

As soon as FFD books are reprinted, Bruce will be adding order information to the web site. Thanks to Bruce for taking care of updating our web site.

Please feel free to forward our web site to your friends and family. Remember, Fort Duffield Park and Historic Site is open year round from daylight till dark. There is no fee unless there is a special program.
